PREFERRED PROVIDER ORGANIZATIONS (PPO) + HEALTH CARE FLEXIBLE SPENDING ACCOUNTS (FSA)

What is a Primary Care Physician (PCP) and why do I need one?

A Primary Care Physician (PCP) is the doctor you can go to for routine screenings and wellness visits, and also consult with for any health questions and concerns. Selecting a PCP is an important part of managing your health effectively and can help save you money, because all PCP visits—even for non-preventive care—are free under the Basic and Enhanced PPO medical plan options when you use an in-network provider.

How do I know if my PCP is covered within the Anthem Blue Cross Blue Shield network?

Log in to anthem.com/capitalone and select Find a Doctor, Vision Provider, Hospital or Urgent Care to search for in-network providers. You can also call 1-844-390-4133 Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. ET to ask about in-network providers.

Do I need to keep my receipts or submit more documentation after using my Health Care FSA debit card?

Yes! It's important to keep receipts (or statements) from any of your Health Care FSA debit card transactions because in some situations Anthem may request additional documentation, and if you don't provide the documentation as requested, your card will be deactivated and the amount of unsubstantiated claims will be reported as income on your W-2 tax forms. Most transactions will approve automatically, but if a match isn't found Anthem will ask you to provide back-up documentation for a charge up to three times. If you don't respond, your debit card will be deactivated until you provide documentation or repay the claim.

If I have unused funds left in my Health Care FSA at the end of the year, will the funds roll over for me to use the next year?

You can roll over up to $570 of unused Health Care FSA funds into the next calendar year for use throughout the calendar year. Remember, you must actively re-elect the Health Care FSA each year during Open Enrollment in order to continue making contributions and to have dollars rolled over.

Please note that if you choose to enroll in the CDHP medical plan option and open an HSA, you cannot use

Benefits

Health Care FSA funds. If you enroll in a Health Care FSA for 2022 and decide to enroll in the CDHP for 2023, Capital One will transfer any balance greater than $50 (up to $570) into a Limited Purpose FSA for 2023. You may only use the funds in your Limited Purpose FSA for eligible dental and vision expenses in 2023.

Why can I not continuously roll over all FSA funds like the HSA?

The IRS' rules require unused FSA funds to be forfeited. In recent years, they have allowed a carryover of up to $570 for the Health Care FSA, which we have implemented as part of our plans, as long as the participant enrolls in the Health Care FSA the following year.

What is Capital One's contribution to the Health Care FSA for 2023?

Capital One will contribute up to $500 to your Health Care FSA account when you elect to contribute.

Note: If you experience a qualified life event in 2023 and enroll in the Health Care FSA at that time, Capital One's contribution will be prorated based on your entry date and you'll be able to contribute more than $2,350, as long as your and Capital One's combined contribution is less than $2,850.

When will I be able to use funds in my Health Care FSA?

In a Health Care FSA, you have full access to your elected contribution amount on January 1, 2023 or upon enrollment if enrolling through a qualified life event.

Can I change my contribution to a Health Care FSA mid-year?

Health Care FSA contributions cannot be changed unless you have a qualifying event that allows a change. In any event, you may not reduce your contribution election to an amount less than what has already contributed to the account for the year.

Can my Health Care FSA be used to pay for my domestic partner's health care expenses?

No, your Health Care FSA can't be used to pay for your domestic partner's health care expenses.

How can I order an FSA debit card for my dependents?

You can order a debit card for your dependents over the age of 18 by going to anthem.com/capitalone or on the sydney mobile app. Log in and under the My Plan tab, choose "Spending Accounts" and then "Manage My Account". In the upper right hand corner hover over your name and select "Profile" and then scroll down and select "Add Family Member". Once the dependent is added, you will receive a debit card in the mail within 7 to 10 business days.

CONSUMER-DRIVEN HEALTH PLAN (CDHP) WITH HEALTH SAVINGS ACCOUNT (HSA)

What is the Consumer-Driven Health Plan (CDHP)?

The Consumer-Driven Health Plan (CDHP) is a health care plan that comes with a Health Savings Account (HSA), a tax-advantaged savings account that gives you more flexibility on how you spend or save your health care dollars.

With the CDHP, you pay a lower cost per paycheck (same as the Basic PPO), but your annual deductibles are higher than the Basic and Enhanced PPOs. For 2023, if you enroll in the CDHP, Capital One will automatically deposit money into your HSA (up to $500 if you enroll in individual coverage or up to $1,000 if you cover any dependents)* to help you pay for the deductible or other out-of-pocket costs. You can choose to add your own pre-tax money to your HSA to build up your account, up to the annual IRS limits (For 2023, $3,850 when enrolled in Associate Only coverage; $7,750 when covering a family member), which is yours to keep.

*Prorated based on date of enrollment.

What is a Health Savings Account (HSA)?

A Health Savings Account (HSA) is a special bank account owned by you to pay for current and future health care expenses, even in retirement. To access an HSA, you must be enrolled in the Consumer-Driven Health Plan (CDHP). The HSA is what really makes this medical plan option unique, and gives you more flexibility over your spending and savings compared to a Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) plan. It provides a triple tax advantage: money is tax-free when it goes in, tax-free as it grows, and tax-free when used to pay for eligible health care costs. The HSA is not available with the Basic or Enhanced PPO plans.

How do I know if I'm eligible to establish an HSA?

The IRS has specific rules about HSA participation. To be eligible you:

- Must be enrolled in a qualified Consumer-Driven Health Plan (the Capital One CDHP is a qualified plan)
- Cannot be claimed as a dependent on another person's tax return
- Cannot be enrolled in Medicare Part A or Part B or Tricare
- Cannot have any other health coverage that is not a qualified CDHP
 - Not covered by spouse's medical or pharmacy plan
 - Not covered through a Flexible Spending Account plan (either Employer's or Spouse's)

Can I have a Health Care FSA with an HSA?

If you are enrolled in an HSA, you cannot be enrolled in a Health Care FSA.

Please note that if you enroll in a Health Care FSA for 2023 and decide to enroll in the CDHP for 2024, Capital One will transfer any balance greater than $50 (up to $570) into a Limited Purpose FSA for 2024. You may only use the funds in your Limited Purpose FSA for eligible dental and vision expenses in 2024.

Why am I not eligible for an HSA if I have Enhanced PPO?

The IRS requires a person making HSA contributions be enrolled in a High Deductible Health Plan, like Capital One's Consumer-Driven Health Plan (CDHP), that does not pay out any benefits (other than preventive care) prior to the deductible being met. The IRS sets the criteria of what can be considered a High Deductible Health Plan. Our CDHP meets that criteria, but our PPO plans do not.

Who is Capital One's HSA administrator?

Capital One's HSA administrator is Anthem WealthCare Savers. If you choose to enroll in the CDHP, Capital One will automatically open an HSA with Anthem for you.

How do the deductible and out-of-pocket maximum work in the CDHP?

The deductible:

- When you enroll in a CDHP, you are responsible for the full cost of services up to your deductible amount ($2,000 individual / $3,000 if you cover dependents). You can use HSA funds, including Capital One's contributions, to offset these costs.
- If you have any coverage level besides Associate only (Associate + Spouse/Domestic Partner, Associate + Child(ren), or Associate + Spouse/Domestic Partner + Child(ren) coverage), you must meet the entire family deductible before the plan begins paying benefits. This is called a "true family" deductible. One family member, or a combination of family members, can incur expenses that add up to the deductible.
- Prescription drugs (both retail and mail order), except in some cases for preventive drugs, are subject to the deductible. After you meet the deductible, you will pay coinsurance for prescriptions.

The out-of-pocket maximum:

- As with the deductible, if you have any coverage level besides Associate only (Associate + Spouse/Domestic Partner, Associate + Child(ren), or Associate + Spouse/Domestic Partner + Child(ren) coverage) you must meet the family out-of-pocket maximum before the plan pays 100% for covered medical and prescription drug expenses.
- After you reach the out-of-pocket maximum, all eligible expenses (including prescription drug coinsurance) are covered 100% by the plan for the remainder of the calendar year.

How do I enroll in the HSA?

If you enroll in the CDHP, Capital One will automatically open an HSA for you through Anthem. After your HSA is opened, you will receive a welcome letter regarding your HSA, and you'll start receiving Capital One's contribution within 1-2 pay periods of enrollment.* If you elect to contribute your own pre-tax dollars to the HSA when you enroll, you'll also start to see your contributions reflected in your paycheck.

*Prorated based on date of enrollment.

In addition to helping me pay for eligible health expenses, what other advantages are there to establishing an HSA?

If you enroll in the CDHP and contribute to your HSA through Capital One payroll deductions, your contributions will be made on a pre-tax basis. Plus, Capital One will make a contribution up to $500 for individual coverage or up to $1,000 for all other coverage levels.* And unlike a Health Care Flexible Spending Account (FSA), unused funds in your HSA at the end of the year are yours to keep, even in retirement.

*Prorated based on date of enrollment.

What can I use my HSA for?

For tax-free distributions, HSA funds must be used on eligible health expenses for tax dependents. The list of eligible health expenses is the same for both the Health Care FSA and HSA. The list of eligible expenses can be found on qme.anthem.com.

But, if you decide to use the funds on something other than health expenses, you can with an HSA! If you are age 65 or older, you will pay income tax on any disbursements made for non-health expenses. If you are younger than 65, you will pay income tax plus a 20% excise tax on those disbursements. Even though you will have to pay income tax on these disbursements, you will still have benefitted from making the contributions to the account tax-free and tax-free growth.

If I enroll in the CDHP, how much may I contribute to an HSA in 2023?

That depends on the coverage level you choose and the annual IRS-dictated limits. For 2023, the IRS will allow HSA contributions of up to $3,850 for an individual and up to $7,750 for a family (no matter how many dependents you cover).

Since Capital One will contribute up to $500 to an HSA for individual coverage or up to $1,000 for all other coverage levels, you may contribute up to $3,350 for individual coverage or $6,750 for all other coverage levels in 2023.* You may also contribute an additional $1,000 per year in catch up contributions if you will be age 55 or older in 2023. You may elect these additional contributions during Open Enrollment on the Benefits application in Workday (also accessible through mybewellbenefits.com).

*Capital One's contribution is prorated based on your date of enrollment, so the total amount you can contribute will vary.

How do I contribute to the HSA?

The HSA allows you to save money throughout the year. You decide on the amount to contribute. You may contribute to the HSA on a pre-tax basis through payroll deductions or on an after-tax basis directly to Anthem. The Workday Benefits application will allow you to contribute up to the annual maximum contribution amount ($3,850 for individual coverage, $7,750 for all other coverage levels in 2023) less Capital One's contribution ($500 for individual coverage or $1,000 for all other coverage levels*) through payroll deductions.

If you experience a Life Event and opt to increase coverage from individual coverage to any other coverage level, Capital One's increased funding will be prorated based on the date in which you experienced a life event.

If you contribute on an after-tax basis, you can claim those contributions on your tax return to receive the tax benefit. If you want to contribute through Anthem, go to anthem.com/capitalone.

If you are contributing through payroll deductions, you may change your annual maximum contribution amount by visiting the Benefits application in Workday (also accessible through mybewellbenefits.com) or by contacting the HR Benefits Center at 1-888-376-8836. Your election amount will be taken out of each paycheck before taxes are calculated so you'll end up reducing your taxable income. It is important to note if you reduce your contribution amount, your new election amount cannot be lower than what you have already contributed for the year.

*Capital One's contribution is prorated based on your date of enrollment, so the total amount you can contribute will vary.

When will I be able to use funds in my HSA?

You may access HSA funds as soon as they are available. You will only be able to use the available funds that are in your HSA at any given time. You'll receive part of Capital One's HSA contribution with each paycheck ($19.23 for individuals, $38.46 for families). If you incur expenses prior to Capital One's deposit into your account, you can reimburse yourself for those expenses incurred prior to Capital One's contribution being deposited into your account.

How will I see my balance?

You can access your account by logging into anthem.com/capitalone.

Is Capital One's contribution to the HSA prorated if I increase coverage during the year due to a life event?

Will I get a debit card that I can use to pay for medical expenses?

Yes, a debit card from Anthem will automatically be mailed to you once you enroll in the CDHP + HSA.

If I decide to contribute to my HSA, when will my payroll contributions get credited to my HSA?

Your HSA funds will be available in your account on the same date you receive your paycheck.

Are there any fees associated with opening an HSA or investing HSA funds?

There are no fees associated with opening an HSA. Capital One will pay a monthly maintenance fee on your behalf as long as you are actively employed by Capital One and enrolled in the CDHP. There are fees associated with certain transactions, such as:

Benefits

- Receiving a monthly electronic or paper statement
- Bill payment or distribution via check
- Stop payment (per check)
- Nonsufficient funds (per item overdrawn)

If you leave Capital One, you will be responsible for the monthly account fee (~$2.50 per month) for as long as you keep your account open.

What investment options will be available with my HSA?

Once your HSA balance exceeds $1,000, you may invest the amount above $1,000 in one or more available investment options offered through Anthem. Any interest or other investment earnings on your account balance grow tax-free. They are not subject to taxes unless you withdraw them to use for non-qualified health care expenses.

You can review your investment options on Anthem's Spending Accounts page when you log in to anthem.com.

How are HSA investments different from 401(k) investments?

There are actually many similarities between a 401(k) and an HSA. An HSA actually offers one additional tax advantage over a 401(k) in that distributions from a 401(k) are taxed, but HSA distributions, when used for medical care, are not taxed.

How can I begin investing in my HSA?

Check out the Anthem Wealth Saver HSA Investment Guide to find information on setting up your investment account, transferring funds from your HSA to investments, available investment options (managed, self-directed, brokerage), and more.

How often are investment fund performance results updated?

Performance is updated on a monthly basis and is available on the Wealthcare Savers website. You can also link to quarterly performance updates within the member website online resources for HSAs.

Yes, however you cannot put more money into your investment account until your HSA account balance is above the $1,000 threshold. Keep in mind that when funds are transferred to your investment account, the amount of the transfer cannot bring the balance of your HSA below your investment threshold.

Can I use my investment funds to pay for qualified medical expenses?

Yes, but the money from your investment account will need to be transferred back to your HSA account to pay for qualified medical expenses.

Can I withdraw funds from my HSA for non-health care qualified expenses?

Withdrawals for unqualified distributions as defined by the IRS will normally be subject to income tax and you will be assessed a 20% tax penalty on the withdrawal. If you are age 65 or older, or totally and permanently disabled, you will not be assessed the 20% tax penalty; however, you may be subject to income tax.

Are medical expenses for cosmetic surgery reimbursable under the HSA?

You can include in medical expenses the amount you pay for cosmetic surgery if it is necessary to improve a deformity arising from, or directly related to, a congenital abnormality, a personal injury resulting from an accident trauma, or a disfiguring condition. Generally, you cannot include in medical expenses the amount you pay for unnecessary cosmetic surgery. This includes any procedure that is directed at improving the patient's appearance and does not meaningfully promote the proper function of the body or prevent or treat illness or disease. You generally cannot include in medical expenses the amount you pay for procedures such as face lifts, hair transplants, hair removal (electrolysis), and liposuction.

Can I cover my spouse and other dependents in the CDHP if they have other coverage, including Medicare?

You can elect the CDHP and enroll your eligible dependents if they have other coverage, including Medicare. Although you may cover your dependents under the CDHP, note that they are not eligible for an HSA since they have other non-high deductible health plan coverage.

If you meet the eligibility rules, you may still receive Capital One funding to your HSA. Capital One will fund your HSA based on the coverage level you elect (up to $500 for individual coverage or up to $1,000 for all other coverage levels)*. Keep in mind that the maximum amount you can contribute to the HSA will be limited to the individual coverage limit ($3,850 for 2023), regardless of what coverage level you enroll in. If your and Capital One's combined contribution is more than $3,850 in 2023, you will face tax penalties on any amount over the contribution limit.

For example, if you have family coverage elected under the CDHP, Capital One will contribute $1,000 to your HSA. Since your dependents are not eligible for the HSA, the maximum you can contribute to your HSA is the individual limit of $2,850 ($3,850 - $1,000). Note that if you cover dependents that are not eligible for the HSA, you cannot use HSA funds to cover their health care expenses.

*Prorated based on date of enrollment.

Can I be enrolled in Capital One's CDHP and my spouse's PPO plan and make contributions to my HSA?

No. In this case you would be enrolled in a plan that does not meet the criteria of a high deductible health plan, so any contributions made to the HSA would become taxable and have an additional penalty applied.

Please note: In this situation, our enrollment systems will not prevent you from making contributions to the HSA, but you will face tax penalties for those non-eligible contributions to the account when filing taxes. The onus is on you to be compliant.

My spouse is enrolled in a CDHP and gets $500 from their employer. Can I enroll myself and my children in our CDHP and contribute $7,750 to the HSA?

Benefits

If your spouse is enrolled in a CDHP and has funds going into their HSA, you will want to coordinate with your spouse to make sure that combined, the two of you do not contribute more than the family limit of $7,750.

But, you might want to consider having your spouse enrolled in a CDHP and benefitting from the tax advantaged HSA through their employer, while you enroll in the Basic PPO at Capital One. You won't get the employer contribution to the HSA, but you won't have a high deductible to hit if you or your children had a surprise medical expense.

My spouse works at Capital One. Can they enroll in the CDHP with one of our kids and get the $1,000 in employer funding, and I enroll in the CDHP with the other kid and also get the $1,000?

Yes, you can do that if you wish, but it's not a great idea. First, you'll be paying for child coverage under both of your enrollments, when you could cover both of your kids under just one of your plans for the same price as just covering one child. Also, you still will not be able to contribute more than a combined $7,750 to your HSAs.

Second, it's risky. Instead of having a maximum limit of $6,000 for the entire family, you are now exposing yourself to having up to $12,000 of medical expenses.

Can I use my HSA funds for health expenses of my tax dependents even if they are not enrolled in a CDHP?

Yes! You have the flexibility to use your HSA funds on medical, dental and vision expenses for yourself and any tax dependents, regardless of what coverage they have.

Remember, the IRS' rules require you to be enrolled in a CDHP in order to make contributions to the Health Savings Account (HSA), but there are no requirements that you have to be enrolled in a certain plan in order to use the HSA funds.

If I cover my spouse under the CDHP but they also have coverage under Medicare, can I use the funds in my HSA to pay for their eligible health care expenses?

Yes, you can use the funds in your HSA for eligible expenses incurred by your spouse, even if they are covered by Medicare. Keep in mind, the amount that you can contribute to your HSA is based upon who you cover. If you cover family members (even if your spouse has Medicare coverage), you can contribute up to the family maximum. However, if you don't cover your spouse or other dependents under the CDHP, you can only contribute up to the individual maximum.

If my spouse has an HSA but is not on my plan, can they transfer their funds to my HSA?

Generally speaking, you can transfer funds from one HSA to another, but you will need to speak with Anthem's Member Services on whether you can transfer your spouse's funds to your HSA.

If I cover my domestic partner under the CDHP, can I use the funds in my HSA to pay for their eligible health care expenses?

No, you can't use HSA funds to pay for your domestic partner's health care expenses on a tax favored basis, unless they are a tax dependent. Remember you can use your HSA funds for any reason, but if you use them for reasons other than medical expenses of qualified dependents, it will generally be included in income and subject to 20% excise tax.

If I cover my spouse as a dependent under the CDHP, can they contribute to their own HSA?

Yes, your spouse can open their own HSA outside of Capital One. You and your spouse are limited to contributing up to the family contribution limit ($7,750 for 2023). You and your spouse may split the contribution however you wish, as long as your collective contribution does not equal more than $7,750 in 2023. Keep in mind that Capital One will automatically contribute up to $1,000 to your HSA account that counts toward the annual limit, but not to your spouse's HSA account.

My spouse is over 55 years old. Can my spouse make catch-up contributions in 2023?

Yes, your spouse can make up to $1,000 in catch-up contributions to their own HSA account in 2023. Your spouse cannot contribute to your HSA account.

If my spouse is over 55 and enrolled in my CDHP but I'm not 55, can I contribute the extra $1,000 in catch up contributions?

No. But, since your spouse is enrolled in a CDHP, they can establish an HSA on their own with a banking institution and contribute the $1,000 in catch up contributions. The total limit of what you and your spouse can contribute cannot exceed the Family maximum ($7,750) plus the catch up ($1,000) for a total of $8,750.

If you and your spouse are both 55 as of December 31 of the plan year, you can contribute the $7,750 to HSA plus the $1,000 from your paycheck deductions, and then your spouse can contribute the extra $1,000 in catch up contributions to their own account for a total of $9,750.

If I enroll my domestic partner under the CDHP, can they contribute to an HSA?

Yes, your domestic partner can open their own HSA account outside of Capital One. They can contribute up to the family contribution level ($7,750 in 2023) to their own HSA account. Keep in mind that Capital One will contribute up to $1,000 to your HSA account, but not your domestic partner's HSA account.

If I enroll my adult children under the CDHP, can they contribute to their own HSA?

Yes, your child(ren) can open their own HSA account(s) outside of Capital One provided they are not claimed as your federal tax dependent. They can contribute up to the family contribution level ($7,750 in 2023) to their own HSA account. Keep in mind that Capital One will contribute up to $1,000 to your HSA account, but not your child(ren)'s HSA account.

If I currently have an HSA from a previous employer, can I enroll in Capital One's HSA?

Yes, if you enroll in Capital One's CDHP, you can maintain multiple HSAs at one time, or you can transfer all of your HSA funds into one account like Capital One's Anthem HSA. If you maintain your previous HSA, you may continue to make contributions on an after-tax basis to your other HSA. You can make pre-tax contributions to Capital One's Anthem HSA through payroll deductions. You choose which HSA to use when you need to pay for health care services.

For associates who are enrolled in the CDHP, we will pay the monthly account fees for the HSA. If you leave Capital One, you will be responsible for the account fees in the Capital One Anthem HSA.

Benefits

What happens to the money in my HSA if I stay with Capital One but switch to another medical plan in the future?

If you enroll in the CDHP for this upcoming plan year and switch to a PPO plan the year after, you'd still be able to use any remaining HSA funds that you have from your time in the CDHP. The HSA funds belong to you and you can use them for medical expenses for you and your tax dependents at any time. However, once you are no longer actively enrolled in a CDHP, you cannot make additional contributions to your HSA.

What happens to my HSA if I leave Capital One?

The account goes with you. The funding Capital One deposited into your account, as well as all of your own contributions, is yours to use for future qualified health care expenses. However, once you are no longer an active Capital One employee, you will be responsible for any fees charged by Anthem or the custodial bank to maintain your account.

While you are enrolled in Capital One's CDHP, the company will pay your monthly account fee for your HSA. If you leave Capital One, you will be responsible for the monthly account fee (~$2.50 per month) for as long as you keep your account open.

If you'd like to move your HSA funds to a new provider, you should reach out to your new HSA custodian as they should have a form that you will need to fill out to complete the transfer. There is a $25 transfer fee from WealthCare Savers to the new custodian, which will be deducted from your account.

What happens to my account upon my death?

If you die, ownership of any money in your account will be given to your spouse if they have been designated as your beneficiary. If your estate is the beneficiary, money in your account will be considered taxable income to you for your final tax return. Otherwise, it will be taxable to the non-spouse beneficiary you designated.

How can I roll over an old HSA into my HSA through Capital One?

If you wish to transfer funds from another HSA to your Anthem HSA, you may either submit the request via the Anthem member portal (provided your current custodian is Health Equity, HSA Bank, or Fidelity) or you may submit the request via paper. For all other HSA custodians, you will need to submit a transfer request via a Transfer of Assets form which can be found on your member portal under "Resources". You may also call the phone number for Member Services, found on the back of your HSA card, for further assistance. You should inquire with your current custodian on any applicable transfer fees.

Why did I receive an email from WealthCare Savers requesting personal information?

WealthCare Savers is the financial custodian of our HSA. They may reach out if they need to verify your identity in order to set up your HSA as part of the USA Patriot Act requirements. If you received an email from WealthCare Savers requesting additional information to verify your identity for your Health Savings Account, please respond to the request to ensure your account is established timely.

DEPENDENT CARE FLEXIBLE SPENDING ACCOUNT (DC FSA)

Do I need to keep my receipts or submit more documentation after using my FSA debit card?

Yes! It's important to keep receipts (or statements) from any of your DC FSA debit card transactions because in some situations Anthem may request additional documentation, and if you don't provide the documentation as requested your card will be deactivated and the amount of unsubstantiated claims will be reported as income on your W-2 tax forms. Most transactions will approve automatically, but if a match isn't found, Anthem will ask you to provide back-up documentation for a charge up to three times. If you don't respond, your debit card will be deactivated until you provide documentation or repay the claim.

If I have unused funds left in my DC FSA at the end of 2023, will the funds roll over for me to use the next year?

You have until March 15, 2024, to incur expenses for your 2023 DC FSA. Claims must be submitted by April 30, 2024. If you do not use the money by March 15, 2024, it will be forfeited per IRS rules.

What is Capital One's contribution to the DC FSA 2023?

Capital One will contribute up to $500, or $19.23 per pay period, to your DC FSA account when you elect to contribute. You must be enrolled in the plan for the full calendar year to receive the full $500.

Can I change my contribution to a DC FSA mid-year?

Yes. DC FSA elections may be added, dropped, or changed mid-year if you have a change in eligible dependents or if your costs change. However, if you no longer need the account, or if you elected in error and do not have any eligible dependents for the DC FSA, refunds will not be issued for funds already contributed to the account.

DENTAL

Which dental plan is best if braces are needed for myself or my child this year?

The Enhanced Dental Plan has orthodontia coverage (including braces, mouth guards, and TMJ disorders for you and your dependents). The plan is 50% co-insurance, with no deductible and a lifetime benefit maximum of $2,500 per person. For more coverage, consider contributing pre-tax dollars to a Health Savings Account (HSA) or Health Care Flexible Spending Account (FSA). Also, be sure to continue to elect the Enhanced Dental Plan until the course of treatment is complete.

GENERAL BENEFITS

Are there any tools to help me choose my medical plan and estimate my health care expenses for 2023?

Yes! The Medical Plan Selector is available to help you find the plan that's best for you. The tool allows you to estimate and compare costs for medical plans based on your past claims and expected needs. Plus, you can calculate contributions to a Health Savings Account (HSA) or Health Care FSA, depending on which medical plan option you enroll in.

What is a qualified life event (QLE)?

A QLE is a qualifying change in your family or employment status such as marriage, the birth or adoption of a child, or a change in your or your spouse/domestic partner's working hours that gives you the opportunity to adjust specific parts of your benefits coverage outside of the Open Enrollment period. You must make your benefit changes within 31 days (60 days after birth, adoption of a child or loss or gain of eligibility or a state/federal insurance) of the life event date. If you are already enrolled in a health plan, please note that you will not be able to change plans during the year through a QLE.

Who can be considered a dependent?

Dependents must be your spouse/domestic partner or qualifying child—a child that you claim as a dependent on your federal tax return or for whom you have legal custody.

How do the Capital One medical plans work if my spouse is also eligible for Medicare? While you are an active associate, our plan will pay as primary coverage before Medicare in most circumstances. See our SPD for more details.
